This is a map of the downtown only of a really big city. It's less useful for getting around -- if you're unfamiliar with the city, taxis will do that for you inexpensively -- but most helpful for orienting you to where you are and where that park, shopping district or hotel is by comparison.

out dated but you will get buy okay

I visited my fianc /now wife in her hometown of Guangzhou. She obviously knew where she was going. But this map helped me keep my overall bearings as we traveled by walking, taxi, bus, subway throughout the city. I became aware of the various parts of the city with this map. It also helped me plan what I wanted to visit and in what order by seeing location relationships. I would have liked an updated version, but it served its purpose.
