Krayter (Mated To The Alien Book 5)

Synopsis

Welcome to Earth. Try not to die. When his brethren begin to discover human mates, Krayter knows his best chance at surviving the Denya Price is to journey to Earth and find the woman he's been waiting for. Otherwise, he'll waste away and die by the age of thirty like most other Detyens. But when his speeder crashes in a hostile human settlement, a mate is the last thing on his mind. Until he sees his salvation. Abandoned. Neglected. In trouble. Penny will do anything to protect her two sisters, even if it means remaining in Highland Settlement, the anti-alien town that her father rules with an iron fist. But when an alien crash lands near her house, she knows that she can't let her father's men find him. Something about the intriguing blue man calls to her and she will not let him die. A journey into something more. The pull of the alien stranger is so strong that Penny has only one choice: kiss him or go mad. Krayter will do anything to earn his mate's trust and her love. And Penny's heart threatens to melt every time the sexy blue alien sends her one of those scorching looks from his heated red eyes. But her father will stop at nothing to get his daughters back and Penny must face an impossible question. How can she keep her sisters safe and keep Krayter for herself? And if she can't have both, how will she survive the sacrifice? Read Krayter today for fated mates, a heart-melting hero, and adventures that are out of this world! Krayter is the fifth book in the Mated to the Alien series about a race of aliens doomed to die if they don't meet their fated mates. The series can be read in any order and there are no cliffhangers!

Being Detyan isn't as bad as it used to be. The sexy young males who search the universe for their mates (denyas) must still succeed by age 30 or die, but ever since some Detyans discovered that human females can be denyas the odds have shifted more in their favor. In addition to being sexy gorgeous hunks, Detyans are smart, which explains why Kayleb and younger brother Krayter have moved to Earth. If you need a human female, go to the source, right? Ah, but Detyan luck being what it is, poor Krayter finds his denya only to discover she's the renegade daughter of some crazed xenophobe gun-nut survivalist. Penny's on the run from Daddy Dearest, towing along her two younger sisters, and Krayter's crash-landing in prepper-land is as likely to get them all killed as it is to save them. Penny can't think of anything beyond getting herself and her sisters to freedom and safety, and since Krayter is certain Penny's his denya, he's along for the ride. Scary crashes, creepy chases, assorted nut-cases, and bitter betrayals that aren't what they seem - the twists and turns are crazy right up to the end. Penny's a little self-involved, but she gets better as the story progresses. Krayter is all Detyan - resourceful, true-blue, committed to his woman, her sisters, his brother, and a future for all of them. It's a thrilling, chilling, sexy and wild love story, with brother Kayleb waiting in the wings for his turn. BTW, I'm reviewing an ARC of this book, but the opinion expressed is totally my own. Go, Detyans!

Howdy, Starr Huntress readers! Get ready for another cool read in the series about an alien race in search of their fated mates. If you don't want spoilers, I'll try not to reveal too much. But if you have read others in this series, you already know the score. Each of these books can be read entirely stand alone, so don't worry about not being able to catch up. And, I am creating a fair review as I received the book gratis, in case you're wondering! I particularly like the Earth setting in this story, as I hadn't considered this. I also hadn't thought of the resentment that might come up when large, hunky aliens show up hoping to find mates. All that is different than others in this series. The hero is a sweetheart, and the heroine properly conflicted by her feelings. That said, I thought the story could have been fleshed out a bit more. And I am starting to wonder about all the sci-fi romances that end up displaying humans in all their belligerent, short sighted and culturally dull ways. Not the best side of humanity, for sure. Overall, this was a good story with some pretty steamy (but light on volume) sex; charming lead characters, and some setup for the next one. For some hot stuff, check out the first book in the series.

I really enjoyed this next installment in the Mated to The Alien series it has adventure, sacrifice and above all the love of fated mates. Krayter crash lands on earth while trying to find his mate among the humans and avoid the Denya price, little does he know his mate is waiting for him in the hostile human settlement near where he crashes. Penny is trying to save her sisters but when she finds Krayter she knows her fathers men will hurt him or worse and she cant let that happen the alien who stirs her blood like no other. Can she protect both her sister's and Krayter or will she have to sacrifice one love for another? I love Kate Rudolph's books especially this series who does not love a romance written in the stars. I received an ARC for my honest opinion.

Penny is the daughter of the two most powerful people in her world. Her world is the Highland Settlement, a closed society, no aliens or outsiders, even as the rest of the world goes on without her. There is an electronic field around the Settlement lands that disables any type of vehicle driven through it. Krayter is an alien, a huge blue Detyen warrior, come to Earth to find a mate before he is 30. He will die at 30 if he doesn't find his lifemate, or Denya. He drives his speeder through the barrier surrounding the Settlement, and crash lands in a river when the electronics go out on it. Penny's younger sisters, Nicole and Resa, find Krayter, half drowned and dying of hypothermia, and haul him back to their cabin to hide him.

Penny catches them, and she knows that if her father's men find his crashed speeder, they will search for him relentlessly, and kill him. Her father is the law at Highland Settlement. Something draws her to Krayter. Krayter is drawn to her. She is his Denya, his lifemate. Now she is his, he is hers, and she has to save his life.

Krayter seems to be able to read her mind and influence her thoughts, drawing her into his arms, and his huge hot blue

Johnson. YEHAW! Ride Em Bareback,

Cowgirl! This a well written book, and although it takes place on Earth, the Settlement is a very foreign feeling place somewhere in the United States. There are some xxx scenes but this is mainly an adventure story and a story of how two people become friends and lovers, and change other people's bigoted minds. Recommend!
